KHALSA MODEL SENIOR SECONDARY SCHOOL, KOLKATA

E-bulletin for the month of August, 2020

Responding with resilience

Our lives have changed radically and we may not be able to control our circumstances, but we do control our daily habits, choices, and mindset.

When face-to-face classes were cancelled and emergency transition to online platforms, our School's aim was to attempt something ambitious — enable students to continue their learning in a manner that does not derail their future plans.

In a short amount of time, students were able to adapt alongside their teachers in transitioning online with an incredible amount of resilience and responsiveness. Opening channels of non-academic communication with our students was necessary to ensure their safety and wellbeing. Many of our students have expressed gratitude for being able to stay connected to their academic community without having to put themselves or their loved ones at risk. Students have also expressed their gratitude for saving time by not commuting and the ease of scheduling that is facilitated by online instruction.

The digital shift has encouraged educators to experiment with different styles of pedagogy in order to still convey the same high-quality instruction in new and ever-developing mediums. It has forced educators to practice nimbleness and revise their methods of teaching to centre students' understanding, care, and ease.

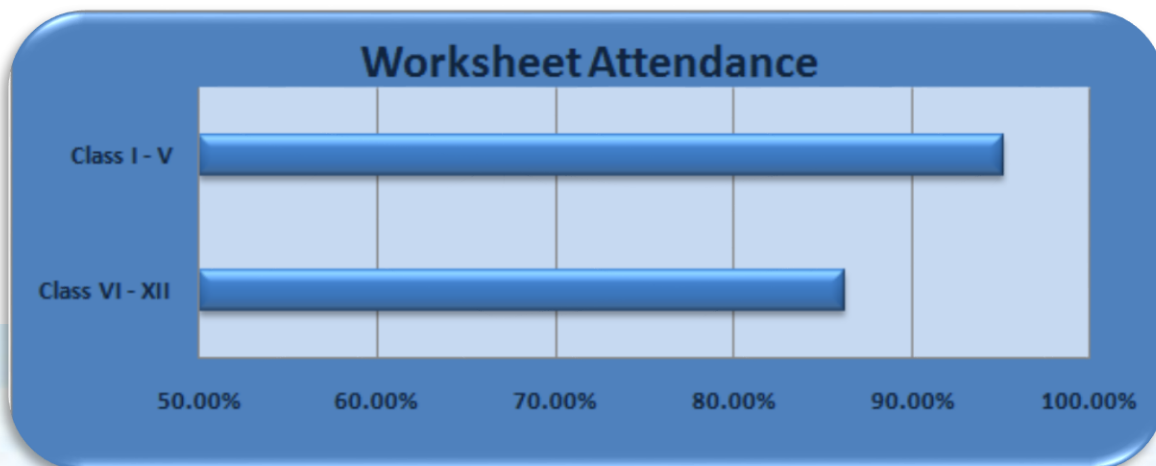

Adjusting to a completely different rhythm of what is considered a normal teaching environment urges students and teachers to invent ingenious ways of community care, problem-solving, and managing resources - it has required us to redefine our "normal."

Our School depends on the adaptability and the exceptional efforts that the teachers and students have shown during this time

Webinar for Parents

A series of webinars on the topic of “Taking Care of Children’s Mental Health through Mindfulness Activities” were conducted by the school counsellor for the parents of class I-X on 7.8.20, 8.8.20 and 15.8.20. Most of the parents participated with great enthusiasm and with the mindset to grasp the new ways of taking care of their child’s emotional wellbeing. Parent’s spontaneous queries and discussions about various emotional and behavioural issues of children, parenting style and the newly introduced concept of mindfulness made these webinars enriching and successful.
